DETAILED ACTION

Reissue Applications

1. Claims 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as being an improper recapture of broadened claimed subject matter surrendered in the application for the patent upon which the present reissue is based. See Hester Industries, Inc. v. Stein, Inc., 142 F.3d 1472, 46 USPQ2d 1641 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Clement, 131 F.3d 1464, 45 USPQ2d 1161 (Fed. Cir. 1997); Ball Corp. v. United States, 729 F.2d 1429, 1436, 221 USPQ 289, 295 (Fed. Cir. 1984). A broadening aspect is present in the reissue which was not present in the application for patent. The record of the application for the patent shows that the broadening aspect (in the reissue) relates to subject matter that applicant previously surrendered during the prosecution of the application. Accordingly, the narrow scope of the claims in the patent was not an error within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 251, and the broader scope surrendered in the application for the patent cannot be recaptured by the filing of the present reissue application.

Specifically, claims 11 and 18 omit the limitation that the pad includes a lining fixedly attached to and partially surrounding the pad, the pad being vertically longer than the lining, allowing the top edge of the pad to extend beyond the lining. This limitation was added to claim 1 in Amdt A of 8/16/99, and subsequently allowed. A claim is broader in scope than the original claims if it contains within its scope any conceivable product or process which would have infringed the original patent. A claim is broadened if it is broader in any one respect even though it may be narrower in other respects.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 11-20 are objected to because they are not underlined in accordance with 37 CFR 1.173(d).

Specification

3. The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: Claims 14-16 and 18-20 recite first and second flange extensions formed monolithically with the pad, and including adhesive members.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 5. Claims 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Craig (U.S. 4,122,847). Craig '847 discloses the invention as claimed. Craig teaches a protective covering 10 comprising a flexible pad 12 having a substantially planar surface with first and second sides, first and second ends 13,17, and adhesive 26 disposed on the first side (Figures 1 and 4). The embodiment of Figure 2 recites that the pad comprises a flexible, sponge-like material. Pad 12 is adapted for attachment to a forehead area of a user such that at least a portion of the adhesive member contacts the forehead of the user (col.2, lines 19-21). First and second flange extensions

Art Unit: 3765

14,15 (Figure 4) are monolithically formed with the pad and are disposed at, or adjacent to, the pad's first and second ends, respectively. The flange extensions include second and third adhesive members adhesive members 26, which are extensions of the central adhesive portion.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-1/1 are allowed.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. McBride (U.S. 3,529,308), Hodgman (U.S. 4,133,052), Lange (U.S. 5,423,091), and Altman (U.S. 6,012,171) teach relevant prior art.
